Knickerbocker Flour

In these days of high cost of living everyone is trying to get the most for their money. While Flour is about the cheapest of the staple articles of food, yet if you can save 20 to 30 cents on the cost of a sack of flour, it means something. While we do not guarantee Knickerbocker to be equal to B Pride of Marion, we do guarantee it to make good bread and pastry, and the fact that we have sold over 400 barrels of Knickerbocker in the past thirty days is evidence that it is giving the best of satisfaction. Give it a trial.
